ILLEGITIMATE

Freedom's Banner Again Makes Its Unwelcome Appearance Here.

Has Neither Known Father Nor Mother, Editor Nor Owner.

Publishers of Dark Lantern Sheet Won't Let Identity Be Known.

INTENDED FOR THE IGNORANT

Christian men and women of all religious denominations were disgusted and insulted this week when they received a copy of Freedom's Banner, a vile sheet that was supposed to have been an illegitimate dark-lantern sheet. This illegitimate dark-lantern sheet has neither known father nor mother, editor nor owner, its publishers taking care that their identity be unknown. Years ago this foe to religion and good government was printed solely to create strife and promote the narrow ends of a small number of selfish and bigoted politicians, whose least care was the public weal and the fair name of Louisville. The Kentucky Irish American will smoke out the disreputable gang, as it did Uncle Sam's Boys and Richard Hackett, the tinct crayon portrait vender, who resides at 1370 Beech street, and is the receiver and distributor of Freedom's Banner and such literature as would incite feelings of intense hatred among Christians.

The Kentucky Irish American has neither the time nor patience to argue with such scoundrels as Freedom's Banner, but that the general public may judge for itself we reproduce the following slanderous charges, alleged to have appeared in the Sunday Star, which suspended about twelve years ago. It was evidently the intention to deceive the people into the belief that the Star is still in existence, which is as near the truth as Uncle Sam's Boys and the A. P. A. ever get. We only ask people to read this and ponder:

The great Central Catholic Society of German Catholics of the United States held a session in this city this week, beginning last Sunday. A reporter of the Star, himself an ardent Catholic, watched the great procession as it passed along with its banners, its music, its cigars, its laughter, etc. He followed it to Phoenix Hill, where he heard the big cannon roar, and on his shoulder saw strange things. He saw Catholic priests with their regalia on at tables and drink beer and whiskey; he saw at other tables, men who wore the picture of the Madonna and child, pictured on their regalia, sit down and eat and drink and smoke the most profane and unrestrained manner. At one table a man took a seat, having just come into the park, after marching with the parade. He wore a handsome uniform, including the helmet of the knight. On his breast was "the Sacred Heart of the Saviour," and on his shoulder were crosses and other sacred emblems. As he sat down, he remarked to a friend: "By G—d, I'm as hot as hell; waiter, bring us two whiskey straight!" As they sat there and drank the stuff, he used the most profane language ever heard. It was enough to make a man shudder to hear him. It was the most sacrilegious exhibition possible. The various banners, some of them exquisite and costly, and representing the Virgin Mary and the Saviour, were standing around amongst the beer tables while the carouse went on.—Louisville Sunday Star.

It is not necessary to say that the foregoing is an unmitigated and premeditated lie and never appeared in the Sunday Star nor any other reputable paper of Louisville. And the same may be said of the many other vile and libelous charges that appear in the illegitimate and parentless Freedom's Banner, whose only mission is to create strife and retard Louisville's progress for the hoped-for gain of a handful of bigots and non-church goers.

We will soon have something to say about those Government employees who are neglecting their duties and devoting the time to this disreputable business. It should not be forgotten that this motley crew can rent no good hall in the West End. The only proprietor who tolerated them was able to stand for but the one meeting.

JUDGES FROM IRELAND.

Ireland's greatest authority on Shortlands, a typical, rotund, ruddy-faced agriculturist, who has pinned more red ribbons on prize cattle at Irish fairs than any man who ever lived, Richard G. Carden, will be the judge of the steers at the International Live Stock Exposition, which takes place from November 26 to December 3 at the International Exposition building at the Chicago Union stockyards. Mr. Carden has promised to make the trip to Chicago, accompanied by Richard O'Malley, of Woodlawn, Sentry, County Dublin, one of the best known authorities on farming and Clydesdale horses in Ireland.

PARADE FOR CARDINAL.

Cardinal Vannutelli, Papal Legate to the recent Eucharistic Congress at Montreal, was the recipient of significant honors at the hand of many thousands of St. Louis Catholics last Sunday. The prelate, members of his party, Archbishops Glennon and Ireland, together with many other dignitaries of the priesthood and laity, reviewed a pageant of nearly 20,000 parochial school children and nearly 5,000 Knights of Columbus from the archiepiscopal residence on Lindell boulevard during the afternoon. Later the Cardinal officiated at special Papal services at the Sacred Heart convent gardens. At night he was the guest of honor at a banquet tendered by the St. Louis Club.

AMERICA

Has Won Love and Admiration of the Papal Legate.

The largest gathering that ever assembled in St. Paul to do honor to a member of the Catholic hierarchy was the one which filled the great Auditorium of that city to overflowing last week to show respect to the esteemed representative of Pope Pius X., Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli. Archbishop Ireland presided, and in response to the addresses of welcome of Gov. Eberhart, Mayor Koller and C. D. O'Brien the Papal Legate told how deeply touched he was by the warmth of the reception tendered him and said in part:

"For America I have always had a high admiration and love, and the more I know of it the higher is my admiration and the warmer my love. What wondrous greatness! What wondrous development! Take your own city as an instance. Since sixty or seventy years ago a little burg of a few scattered houses; today it is a city of more than 200,000 inhabitants; a city which, with its sister city Minneapolis, counts its people by half a million. America is a country of prodigious industry and commerce, wondrous in its practical application of the sciences. But more than all this, it is to be admired for its aspirations to high morality, for its profound respect for righteousness and religion, for its deep devotion to liberty united with social order. Speaking to Catholics, let me tell them that they must see that, while around them there is so much movement, so much progress, they must not fall behind. Let them work for its weal."

M'GILLICUDDY

Expected to Restore Lost Prestige to Maine in Congress.

D. S. McGillicuddy, one of the new Democratic Congressmen-elect, is expected to reflect great credit on Maine and to do a great deal in the way of restoring the prestige which the Pine Tree State once had in the two houses of Congress and has slowly lost. Maine for many years had an influence in legislation out of all proportion to her size and population. Such men as Reed, Hale, Frye and Boutelle outweighed a whole State of Sulzers, a whole section of Dicks. No other State except Missouri was comparable to her in the weight and dignity of her Congressional representation. McGillicuddy is a natural-born orator of the fluent Irish type, but he is much more than that. He has been Mayor of his city a couple of times and has demonstrated his executive ability. He is the man whom Democrats deem upon for the restoration of Maine's vanished glories, and so practical is the public mind on this subject—so much does the State look to results instead of to partisan considerations where members of Congress are concerned—that if McGillicuddy comes up to the expectations that have been formed of him it is quite probable that Republicans will vote for him in future elections for the sake of keeping in Congress a man who reflects credit on the State.

BAZAR

For the Sisters of Mercy Is Next Catholic Event.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of ladies and gentlemen was held Monday night in St. Francis hall for further arrangements for the grand bazar for the Sisters of Mercy, which will take place at Liederkranz Hall on October 18-21. This is the next event of interest in Catholic circles, and all indications point to a splendid success. Thomas Tarpey presided and Jacob Ohlischlager acted as Secretary. The reports of Mrs. Dolle, Mrs. Brnwin, Mrs. Keenan, Mrs. Netherland, Miss Bee Small, Mrs. Reeder and Miss Mary Sheridan were all encouraging, also the talks and suggestions of Al Smith, Andrew Kast, Jack Hubbuck, P. A. Callahan, Newton G. Rogers, Dr. P. S. Ganz and others. There will be six booths and the bazar will be a veritable fair. Another meeting will be held Monday night in St. Francis Hall, when it is hoped every parish will be fully represented.

CONFIRMATION.

Bishop O'Donoghue and his Secretary Father Monaghan, visited Springfield this week, where the sacrament of confirmation was administered to a large class. The Bishop also visited Fairfield and several adjacent towns. It is said to be his intention to pay a visit to every church in the diocese within the next sixty days. This means that he will be very busy for some time to come.

HOME.

Rev. Father Thomas White Talks of His Trip Through Europe.

Visits Ireland and Finds Everything Changed For the Better.

Received in Special Audience and Embraced by the Holy Father.

WILL BESTOW PAPAL BLESSING

Rev. Father Thomas White, the esteemed pastor of St. Frances of Rome church in Clifton, is being warmly welcomed by his legion of friends upon his return from his trip to Ireland, the place of his birth, the continent and Rome, the Eternal City. Father White spent two months abroad, after long years of arduous labor, and the deserved vacation has been most beneficial as he is the picture of health. Accompanying him was his cousin, Mr. P. P. Morris, one of the leading and most influential men of Fall River, Mass., who declares the trip the greatest event of his life.

When seen by the Kentucky Irish American Father White did not want to be interviewed, though he was gracious and chatted most interestingly and related a number of pleasant incidents of the trip across the pond, his companions being a number of jolly Americans and Irishmen who were seeking and enjoyed rest and pleasure. Arriving in Kentucky the good sojourner slept in the bed in which he reposed in his boyhood days. He found Ireland more picturesque and beautiful than ever and his beloved Kilkenny the most progressive town in the south of Ireland. With the long days, fertile soil and bountiful crops there was a different aspect from the old days and everything appeared changed and for the better. While in Dublin Father White visited the Art Gallery and Public Library, the largest in Europe and both up-to-date. A pleasant incident of his stay in the Irish capital was his reception and entertainment by Lord Mayor Doyle, who invested him with the famed collar of gold and the social keys of the city. Touring the Green Isle Father White found the most wonderful and agreeable changes, the cabins of former days replaced by cosy and comfortable laborers' cottages and evidences of industry and prosperity everywhere. While in Belfast, now Ireland's largest city, he was the guest of Joseph Devlin, one of the Irish exiles now in this country, and was much gratified to see there a large consignment of hogsheads of tobacco from Kentucky. Galway was found to be a bustling and busy city, where electricity is in use for every conceivable purpose. From Galway Father White and Mr. Morris proceeded to Clifton, the place of his birth, spending several days in the wild west.

While in London the tourists inspected the Tower, the House of Commons and Westminster Cathedral, which will require at least fifty years for completion. A notable change in the English metropolis was the thousands of taxicabs, which will soon be used to replace the jaysaws and jaunting cars in Ireland. From England they proceeded to the continent, stopping at Paris, Versailles and other large cities, visiting the Palace of the Kings, the noted cathedrals and churches and all that would interest an American. Arriving at Rome, the Eternal City, on August 4, the culmination of the hopes of Father White and Mr. Morris were speedily realized. Two days later they had the inexpressible pleasure of being received in special audience by the Holy Father, Pope Pius X. Father White declared the impression made upon him by Pius X. as he embraced him will never fade from his memory. The Pope conversed in Latin, asking for a number from Kentucky, and was most affable, conferring upon the Kentucky priest special facilities, enabling him to impart the Papal blessing. Father White says the Pope is small of stature and has much the appearance of the good-natured Irish parish priest. Speaking of Rome Father White says a year would be required to see it right and that description was well nigh impossible. There were, in fact, two Rome, ancient and modern. He visited and celebrated mass in the Church of St. Frances of Rome, his patron, and had the pleasure of meeting Father Fennessy, formerly President of St. Mary's College in Kentucky, but now Procurator General for his order, with headquarters in Rome. Other places visited were the Vatican Library, not equalled by the combined libraries of the world, and the Vatican Palace, with its 1,100 rooms.

Tomorrow the people and parish will celebrate the twenty-third anniversary of the dedication of the church with solemn ceremonies, the blessing of statues of St. Joseph, the blessed Virgin and St. Ann, and the imparting of the Papal blessing. The masses will be at the usual hours. At the solemn vespers at 7:30 in the evening the statues will be blessed and Father Raffo will preach the sermon, which will be followed by benediction and the blessing for all present Catholics from all parts of the city will be welcomed by the pastor and congregation.

BENEDICTION.

One of the Most Beautiful Rites of the Catholic Church.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament is one of the simplest rites of the Catholic church. The priest enters and kneel down; one of them unlocks the tabernacle, takes out the Blessed Sacrament, inserts it upright in a monstrance of precious metal and sets it in a conspicuous place above the altar in the midst of lights for all to see. The people then begin to sing; meanwhile the priest twice offers incense to the King of Heaven, before whom he is kneeling. Then he takes the monstrance in his hands and turning to the people he blesses them with the Most Holy in the form of a cross, while the bell is sounded to call attention to the ceremony. It is our Lord's solemn benediction of his people as when He lifted up his hands over the children, or when He blessed his chosen ones, when He ascended from Mount Olivet. As sons might come before a parent before going to bed at night, so once or twice a week the great Catholic family comes before the Eternal Father, after the bustle and toil of the day, and His smiles, His benediction and sheds upon them the light of His countenance. It is a full accomplishment of what the priest invokes upon the Israelites, "The Lord bless thee and keep thee, the Lord show his face to thee and have His countenance to thee and give thee peace." Can there be a more touching rite, even in the judgment of those who do not believe it? How many a man, not a Catholic, is moved on seeing it to say, "O that I did but believe it!" when he sees the priest take up the Most Beautiful Sacrament and soothly actions of Christ's holy church.

SPLendor

Will Mark Consecration of New York's Grand Cathedral.

Cardinal Vannutelli, Cardinal Gibbons and Cardinal Logue will take part in the consecration services of St. Patrick's Cathedral of New York City, which will occur October 5. This will be the first time in the history of the United States that the three Cardinals have been assembled together on any occasion. St. Patrick's Cathedral is the largest and most elaborate church structure in the United States. The celebration will surpass in pomp and splendor any of the other great ceremonies of the Catholic church, which have taken place at the Cathedral. Besides the three Cardinals in their scarlet robes, there will be more than fifty Archbishops and Bishops, Monsignors, monks of almost every order on this continent, and at least one thousand priests will take part in the procession. Archbishop Farley will consecrate the Cathedral.

VALUABLE BROCHURE.

The International Catholic Truth Society has just issued a translation by M. J. Raven McLaughlin of the scholarly treatise, "The Mystery of the Most Holy Eucharist and Human Reason," by the Rev. Joseph Chaudano, of the Society of Jesus. Most of the inexpensive publications of the I. C. T. S. are intended justly for wide distribution among the masses of the Catholic and non-Catholic population of our country. This brochure, however, which deals with a theme which requires treatment at the hand of a trained metaphysician and will be of special value to the more highly educated circles, is a lucid exposition of the doctrine of the Holy Eucharist and has ably demonstrated the perfect harmony between said doctrine and the laws of the human mind. Nowdays there are thousands of Catholics at State universities, in Normal colleges, and a far greater number of non-Catholics who have been imbued, perhaps unconsciously, with false fundamental principles of philosophy and of physical science. A materialistic or pantheistic mental temperament thus developed which, apart from a miracle of divine grace, causes the non-Catholic to regard as absurd the doctrine of the Eucharistic Presence, and inclines the Catholic to believe that he must abdicate reason or lay aside the faith. Such an attitude proceeds not from learning but from ignorance of the teaching of the church, and such pamphlets as the present should be widely circulated among persons of education and particularly in scholastic circles. A careful study of Father Chaudano's treatise will convince a sincere searcher for truth that in Christ's Sacrament of Divine Love is explained by his church there is absolutely nothing repugnant to human reason.

MISSIONS.

The eloquent Jesuit missionaries, Rev. Albert A. Dierkes and Michael J. Leary, will open a week's mission tomorrow at St. Philip Neri's church, Floyd and Woodbine streets, to which everybody will be welcome. The order of services during the week will be masses at 5:30 and 8:30 in the morning, instructions and stations at 3 in the afternoon, instructions at 7 in the evening, followed by Rosary, sermon and benediction at 7:30 o'clock. Father Ackermann is to be congratulated upon securing the services of these two eloquent priests, and the announcement about the church at all the services.

MACKIN

Celebrates Seventeenth Anniversary in the Most Edifying Manner.

Members Turn Out in Hundreds at Both Mass and Vespers.

Rev. Father Seraphin's Words of Advice to Young Men.

A DAY OF MUCH REJOICING

Last Sunday was the seventeenth anniversary of Mackin Council, Y. M. I., and the occasion was made one of much rejoicing, not only for the members, but their parents, relatives and friends. What Mackin does is always well done. The celebration was both edifying and enjoyable and will be a pleasant memory to the participants for all their years to come. Founded by the revered Father Mackin with the then young Shelleys, Ralids, Kobergs, Bannons, Andriots, Hubbuchs, Murphys, Adams, Webers, Kinsellas, Cuniffs, Bizots, Gathofs, Pfanz, Higgins, Caspers, Robertsons, Burkes, Smfhs and others as a nucleus, Mackin Council has grown until today it stands second to no other Catholic fraternal society in this section of the country. With a membership of nearly 500 young men, Mackin Council wields an incalculable influence for good that extends over the entire city. Always well officered and progressive, its treasury and assistance have ever been for every worthy public enterprise, and to this progressive spirit is due much of its success, which is crowned with the magnificent club house and grounds, valued at over $20,000, and entirely paid for. This is an exceptional record and one the members may well rejoice over.

Sunday morning the members assembled at the club house on Twenty-sixth street and thence proceeded in a body to St. Cecilia's church, where all received holy communion at the high mass celebrated by the Rev. Father Brady at 7 o'clock. The young men occupied the center aisle, and in his sermon the pastor expressed his appreciation of their presence and the worthy example set for others.

The afternoon programme opened with the solemn vespers at St. Anthony's church, at which Rev. Father Seraphin was the celebrant, assisted by the Franciscan fathers. The big church was thronged to the doors, and a feature that attracted much attention was the musical programme rendered under the direction of Prof. Kollross and his magnificent choir. On all sides were words of praise for the Mackin and the splendid appearance made with the Stars and Stripes and handsome banner at its head.

The celebration was brought to a happy close at the club house, where a reunion and reception had been arranged for the members, Trinity and Unity Councils, and invited guests. President Kenney, of Mackin Council, in a few well chosen words welcomed those present and bade each to be at home and share in the evening's pleasures. Rev. Father Seraphin, pastor of St. Anthony's, was then introduced and delivered one of the most forceful addresses ever heard in Mackin Council's halls. Father Seraphin spoke in high terms of the work of the Catholic youth of Louisville and pointed out to his hearers the course they should pursue, which would bring credit to the church and an everlasting reward to themselves. His words made a deep impression on his hearers and elicited frequent and hearty applause.

Others introduced by President Kenney were Supreme Vice President Robert Burke, President Vic Ecker, President Frank Reiser, David O'Connell, James Shelley, Thomas Cline, Charles Ralid and Joseph Hancock, who all had words of cheer for Mackin Council and the Young Men's Institute.

LEAVES HIS CHURCH.

Because a majority of his vestrymen did not approve of the drawing into the congregation of several thousand Italians living in the parish, the Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Parks preached his final sermon as rector of the Calvary Episcopal church, at 401 Calvary avenue, at Twenty-first street, New York City, last Sunday. Two zealous workers have followed the pastor, and it is said that many others will retire because of the anti-Christian spirit of the vestrymen.

SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY.

Richard L. Flood, one of Jeffersonville's best known and highly respected citizens, a devout and practical member of St. Augustine's church and of the founders of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Catholic Knights of America in that city, died suddenly Saturday morning of uremia, with which he was stricken on the Tuesday previous. The news of his death was everywhere received with expressions of profound sorrow and the feeling that the community had sustained a distinct loss. Besides his wife, who was Miss Anna Eagan, he is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary Flood, and four sons, Richard L., Robert E., William P. and James A. Flood. The funeral was held Monday morning from St. Augustine's, Rev. Father John O'Connell officiating at the mass of requiem, and was attended by large numbers from each of the three Falls' Cities.

ARBITRATION.

Tribunal That Would Prevent Further Labor Troubles.

As the best means of ending strikes, settling disputes between employers and employees and preventing lockouts the Commission on Congested Population appointed by Mayor Gaynor has suggested that a Committee of Arbitration be established for New York. It is proposed to pattern the tribunal after the one which has been established for two years in Canada and which is known in that province as the Industrial Disputes Investigation Commission.

There are more disputes and more loss of time to both employers and wage earners, the committee has ascertained, in New York City than in all the rest of the State. The proposal is to submit questions under discussion to the tribunal, with the understanding that, pending its investigation and report, there shall be no lockout or strike. The question of how long the agreement should hold pending the investigation is regarded as of first importance. It is proposed to enlarge upon the Canadian act, which provides for three Commissioners and have five in the tribunal. The Mayor would have the appointive power, but the parties to the dispute would each have the privilege of recommending a representative, one would be chosen as a disinterested and impartial member and the others either chosen by the Mayor or elected by the three first appointed. Experts on labor conditions, including prominent members of labor unions, who have been asked to consider the plan, have endorsed it, and members of the committee are confident it will be given a thorough trial.

CHARITIES.

Catholic National Conference Lauded by President Taft.

What is considered to be the most successful convention of its kind ever held under the auspices of the Catholic church in America came to an end Wednesday in Washington, when President Taft commended the efforts of the 300 delegates to the first annual conference of Catholic charities and wished them success in their nation-wide movement. Following the closing session of the conference the delegates went to the east room of the White House and listened with interest to the address of the President. Plans for the establishment of societies for relief of the poor in various cities, protection of young people and prevention of crime among the masses were approved. Committees will draw up a plan of study in order to discover the local conditions in each city, and construct a general plan of preventive work, to operate with other agencies working along similar lines; and will develop a policy designed to meet the problems effectively.

The conference decided further to develop St. Elizabeth's Union, which is composed of Catholic women's societies and which was organized at a convention of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, at Richmond, two years ago. The Right Rev. Monsignor D. J. McMahon, of New York City, and the Rev. Dr. William Kirby, of the Catholic University of America, were appointed a committee for this purpose.

SIXTY-NINTH

Presented Fine Badges by Regular Army Officers.

Col. Louis D. Conley, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth Regiment of New York, has just received a very complimentary report from the United States regular army officers who had been assigned to watch the war maneuvers at Pine Camp, Jefferson county, in which that fighting and fearless outfit took such a prominent part. The report states that the discipline of the men and their general conduct during the ten days they had been out camping with the regular army was excellent, and the report further goes on to compliment the officers and men of the Sixty-ninth on the knowledge they displayed of a real war game. They surprised the army officers, and the latter have presented to each member of the Sixty-ninth a souvenir badge to be worn on the right breast of their uniform coats.

EUCHE, LOTTO, SUPPER.

The ladies of St. Leo's church, Highland Park, will give an oyster supper, euche and lotto on Wednesday afternoon and evening, October 12. This affair was originally scheduled for three weeks ago, but on account of a severe storm which made the roads and walks impassable it was postponed. A new sidewalk to the church and school has just been completed, and the ladies are endeavoring to raise funds to pay for the improvements.

KINGS

County Was Formerly Land of the O'Carrolls and the O'Flanagans.

Once a Part of Munster But Is Now Included in Leinster.

The Home of Clonmacnoise and the Celebrated Seven Churches.

IT MANY RIVER AND LAKES

Kings county is included in the Province of Leinster. It is bounded on the north by Meath and Westmeath, on the east by Kildare, on the south by Queens county and on the west by Galway and Tipperary. Kings is the old territory of Ely O'Carroll, the inheritance of O'Carroll in part. The whole territory included in the county was once counted part of Munster. A part of Ely O'Carroll, coextensive with the barony of Ballybritt, was called Kinel Farga, and was held by the O'Flanagans. The old district of Fircall included the present baronies of Eglis, Ballybay and Ballycovan. It was the territory of the O'Molloys and was included in the ancient Province of Meath. Other parts of the county were originally held by the MacCaghans, the O'Carneys, the Sinachs and the Foxes.

Kings and Queens counties were formed into shire ground during the reign of Philip and Mary and received their respective names in honor of the King and Queen. The county is irregular and broken in shape. Its greatest length from the Ollatrim river, near to the boundary near Edenderry, is fifty-two miles, and the breadth from Clonmacnoise on the Shannon to the boundary near Frankford is nineteen miles. The area is 772 square miles, and the population about 70,000. The eastern margin of the county is mountainous, but the greater part is flat, and there are many bogs and morasses.

Kings county is plentifully watered. The Shannon forms its boundary on the west for twenty-three miles. The Little Brosna, the Bunow, the Barrow, the Boyne, the Yellow river, the Blackwater, the Gageborough, the Cladiagh, the Tullamore, the Boora, the Camcor, the Figle and the Slane rivers are a few of the streams that water the plains of Kings county. There besides there are many lakes, among them Lough Boora, Lough Coura, Lough Anaghmore, Pallas Lough and Lough Fin.

Tullamore is the assize town and has a population of about 5,000. It is an excellent business town. Philipstown, Birr, Edenderry, Clara, Frankford, Shinnone, Manegall and Portlanning are all thriving little towns. On a high bank over the Shannon, nine miles below Athlone, is Clonmacnoise, one of the greatest of all the ancient religious establishments in Ireland. It was founded by St. Kieran, in the sixth century, and flourished for many ages afterward. It was adopted as the burial ground of the Kings of Ireland belonging to the southern or O'Neil race; and numerous Kings and chiefs retired to it to spend their old age in meditation and prayer. Even to this day it is the most celebrated and most frequently visited cemetery in Ireland. It contains the ruins of many churches, popularly called the "Seven Churches," two round towers, old crosses and many ancient tombs.

Among the show places in Kings county is Birr Castle, one of the most interesting edifices in Ireland. Birr takes its name from Birra, an ancient abbey founded by St. Brendan. A great battle was fought there in the third century between Cormac, son of Con of the Hundred Battles, and the people of Munster. Birr Castle was handed over to Philip de Worcester by King Henry II, but so vigorously did the southern or O'Neil race defend it that it frequently fell into the hands of Irish and English masters. It was not included in Kings county until the reign of James I. and he assigned it to Sir William Parsons. Cromwell attacked it, and his son-in-law, Ireton, took it in 1650. It was again besieged by the Jacobites in 1688-90.

Birr Castle is now held by the Earl of Ross. It has one of the largest reflecting telescopes in the world.

FORTY HOURS.

The Forty Hours' prayer will commence tomorrow morning at St. Agnes' church, presided over by the Passionist Fathers, and conclude Tuesday. These beautiful and impressive devotions will be largely attended, and the sermon will be by the most eloquent preachers of the order. They will begin at the high mass.

RECOVERS FROM ILLNESS.

The Rev. J. J. Fitzgerald, of St. Leo's church, Highland Park, has recovered from an illness that for a week caused his friends and parishioners much uneasiness. Father Fitzgerald is again able to perform his clerical duties, and all were glad to again see him on the streets. He will officiate at all the services tomorrow.

BIGOTRY'S BANNER.

During the inglorious career of the American Protective Association, a secret, corrupt political society, its organ in this neighborhood was a mendacious, malicious newspaper misnamed Freedom's Banner. It served up weekly, in bad grammar and wretched taste, innumerable lies, misquotations, forgeries and slanders intended to influence the minds of ignorant, weak men and women against their Catholic neighbors and friends. It was useless for any sensible person or conscientious editor to answer the absurd arguments or to refute the falsehoods of such an irresponsible newspaper. While the A. P. A. movement was at its height this miserable publication found enough dopes to keep up its expenses and pay its publishers a little money; but when the bad character and sinister purposes of the leaders of that oath-bound, dark-lantern organization became well known it quickly perished, and with it into the ash-heap went Bigotry's Banner. For more than twelve years it has not appeared to offend the sight and the conscience of sensible people. But now men like the inglorious A. P. A. leaders of 1894 and 1895 are trying, for political purposes, to revive this indecent newspaper and to stir up again baneful antipathies and to degrade the Christian religion and to misrepresent and prejudice the cause of religious freedom. The first number of the new series is as bad as the worst of the old series. It is unfit for circulation through the mail. We call attention to it now because its appearance indicates the presence of a malignant spirit here again, and a corrupt purpose on the part of scheming politicians to use and abuse religious feelings and prejudices for their own selfish advantage.

Such a newspaper is a nuisance to sincere, fair-minded Protestants as well as to Catholics. It begets distrust and anger where there ought to be sweet charity and confidence among true Christians and good neighbors. It deserves and finally will excite the execrations of both Catholics and non-Catholics; but in the meantime much harm will have been done merely to help a few politicians and professional agitators.

The new organization, especially designed to take the place of the A. P. A., is called Uncle Sam's Boys. It may fool some simple, honest people and help a few politicians for a time, but its un-American and foolish aims and ignorant dupes must soon bring it into disrepute. Such plagues, like some locusts, come at every period of fifteen or twenty years to annoy good citizens, but the common sense and liberal feelings of Americans of every faith finally prevail over ignorance and bigotry.

FORTY YEARS.

The New York Irish World, of which Patrick Ford is the able and fearless editor, will this month celebrate the fortieth anniversary of its founding by issuing a mammoth special number. Printed with colored covers and numerous pictorial illustrations, it will contain many interesting and attractive features, contributions and letters from prominent Irishmen on both sides of the Atlantic, and a section devoted to the Irish party, with letters from each and portraits from latest photos. Patrick Ford and his great paper have never faltered, but have always been steadfast and true, and in extending its congratulations the Kentucky Irish American wishes them another forty years of health, wealth and prosperity.

FOR COLUMBUS DAY.

Columbus day, October 12, has been made a legal holiday in a large number of States and will be observed in a manner fitting the occasion. In many cities all civic organizations will be invited to participate in a public demonstration. If possible the school children will be in the parade. While it is the idea to make the occasion one in which all sects and denominations can assist, Catholics should remember that the day is theirs in an especially important sense. To honor Columbus is to honor our holy religion and Mother Church. As a learned priest said recently, the public observance of the day on the part of Catholics is an apostolate to our brethren of a different faith. "For Catholics," said he, "to parade in a public manner on this day will be doing more good than if we preached a hundred sermons. Such a demonstration as a proper parade is eloquent of our faith, our love of country and our citizenship."

APPEALS TO PASSION.

The Evening Post, isolated and alone, in a number of its recent issues, prints in big type an appeal that would lead to riot. Making false charges against all not agreeing with it politically, it declares: "Every effort will be used to prevent a full registration. One part of the scheme is to terrorize the negroes, and by the free use of the bludgeon and the revolver to keep the negroes away from the registration booths. Let every white citizen advise with the negroes he knows concerning their rights. See that he is countenanced and protected by some white man if he wants to register."

For the Post there is doubtless a certain smug satisfaction to be obtained from rolling out such sonorous sentences, but if the writer were compelled, however, to give some specific proof of his habitual accusations we wonder what sort of a figure he would make. Every man will have equal chance to register, and the reflections on the police are without reason and uncalled for. The Post appears to have lost its reason.

APOLOGY.

The Kentucky Irish American failed to receive its special report of the great United Irish League convention at Buffalo in time for this issue, which we exceedingly regret. The convention, however, was all that was hoped for and successful in every way. Next week the official report will be printed.

Though not a theologian, we are surprised that Dr. Edward L. Powell, pastor of the First Christian church, should declare that the name of God does not appear in the Book of Esther. Dr. Powell is either very forgetful or his Bible study has been sadly neglected. Before again publicly reverting to that good book Dr. Powell should read up, at least the Book of Esther.

Rev. M. P. Hunt, Louisville's A. P. A. harangue, has been "called" to Fort Collins, Col. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the good people of Colorado in their misfortune. We suggest that it would be appropriate for Uncle Sam's Boys to parade to the depot on Dr. Hunt's departure.

Referring to insurgency some Republicans say: "It's all in the house. The furniture in being moved from one room to another may make a little rumbling." To the man up a tree it looks as though most of the furniture were being ditched out of the window.

Those patriotic Americans who call themselves "Uncle Sam's Boys" are not recorded among those who ever went to the front when their country needed defenders. They scooted to the Wet Woods vicinity, where they remained until military service was not needed.

Pryan will stand for no man who does not stand for Bryan's principles, which appear indefinite and uncertain. The opinion grows that William has gone wrong, but not until his pockets were well filled. Democracy can spare him.

The Republican party is indeed in hard straits. New York is certain to return to the Democratic fold. Ohio and Indiana will do likewise, and that means victory in the next Presidential election.

Don't fail to register next Tuesday or Wednesday. This is the duty of every good citizen.

RECENT DEATHS.

John Burke, aged sixty-five years, died early Tuesday morning at his home, 1434 Beech street, after an illness of long duration. He was well and favorably known and before his illness was an active and respected member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. His funeral was held Thursday morning from the Sacred Heart church, with Rev. Patrick Walsh as celebrant of the requiem mass.

The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Higgins, the beloved wife of Patrick Higgins, 815 Oldham street, took place Monday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church with solemn mass of requiem. Mrs. Higgins was a most estimable woman, devoted to her family and friends, and generous and kind to the unfortunate. Besides her husband six children are left to mourn her untimely death. For the bereaved family there is a widespread feeling of sympathy.

CONFIRMS CHILDREN.

Tuesday was a happy day for the Catholics of Taylorsville and vicinity, being the occasion of the first visit of the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue. The Bishop administered the sacrament of holy communion and confirmed twenty-three boys and girls, the largest class at All Saints' church for many years. For a week preceding the Bishop's visit the children had the benefit of instruction from the Rev. Father Ambrose, C. P. The church was thronged and the welcome accorded Bishop O'Donoghue was a hearty one.

At the Avenue next week Beulah Poynter, a young actress-playwright, will present "The Little Girl He Forgot," a play she recently wrote. Miss Poynter has been compared to Maggie Mitchell. ### HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Every county in Connecticut shows gains in membership.

Connecticut has 5,484 members and $32,000 in the several treasuries.

California has appropriated $400 for Irish histories for parochial schools.

Division 2 of Indianapolis last year made the greatest gain of any division in Indiana.

Right Rev. John T. Carroll, Bishop of Helena, Mont., is now the National Chaplain.

Not yet two years old, the baby division of Portland, Maine, has a membership of 300.

Division 3 holds the first October meeting Monday night and a large attendance is looked for.

The Kentucky Irish American has discovered the identity of the ghost. It was certainly a live one.

Massachusetts has 168 auxiliary divisions with 14,000 members and assets aggregating over $71,000.

Division 10 of Chelsea, Mass., will have a series of educational talks after each meeting during the winter.

The Hibernians of Dunkirk will co-operate with the Knights of Columbus in the celebration of Columbus day.

Reports are that the number of Hibernians in line in the Columbus day parade at Boston will exceed all anticipations.

Pennsylvania had over 350 delegates in attendance at the State convention. James B. Sheehan, of Philadelphia, was elected State President.

The Hibernians of Springfield, Mass., are making preparations for a grand reception for Hon. John E. Redmond when he visits that city next month.

The Illinois State convention voted $500 to James Tarry, of Chicago, one of the founders of the Ancient Order in that State, who is totally blind.

Division 1 of Concord, N. H., celebrated its fortieth anniversary with an excellent programme and reception for State Treasurer Crowley, one of its members.

The election of County Board officers will next attract attention. After the county convention there should be a big and widespread campaign for new members.

About 300 delegates were in attendance at the Minnesota State convention last week at Faribault. National President Regan and many others prominent in the order were visitors.

Every member of Division 2 should attend the meeting next Friday night and hear President Con Ford relate his experiences at the Ashland convention. Con has a good story to tell.

Wednesday night the Ladies' Auxiliary will welcome the new State President, Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, and the representatives to the State convention, who will submit complete reports of the proceedings.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night, when plans for the winter may be outlined. President Walsh wants all the members present. He arrived here Tuesday and will be expected to tell of the contract he made at Ashland.

Division 3 of Buffalo gave an entertainment Thursday evening, attended by Bishop Fallon, of London, Ont., and John Redmond and T. P. O'Connor, the Irish envoys. The proceeds were for the altar fund of St. Nicholas church.

National President Regan was honored last night by a grand reception at St. Paul, attended by Archbishop Ireland, Gov. Everhart, United States Senators Clapp and Nelson, Mayor Keller and Hibernians from all parts of Minnesota.

BREAKS PARENTS' HEARTS.

The worst habit boys can fall into is that of loafing around on the streets at night. It is then they cast their lot in slippery places when at any moment they are likely to fall from grace. All good and noble lessons taught them by their mothers at home and the Sisters in the school room are counteracted and nullified. They learn nothing that is good—but everything that is bad. Fathers and mothers should realize that the boys of today are the men of tomorrow. The boys who spend their evenings in the sacred precinct of home with good literature for their companions are the future hope of this nation; they will fill our Congressional and legislative halls, and sit in judgment upon men and measures, while the boys who run the streets will fill our penitentiaries, almshouses and lunatic asylums. Parents who are responsible for these broken laws of decency will have broken hearts and bowed heads in the awakening years that will inevitably follow.

IS YOUR BIRTHDAY IN OCTOBER?

Persons born in October are ambitious, talented, energetic and enthusiastic, but somewhat careless and even reckless. The men are attracted by speculation and financial risks, are fascinating to women but not always faithful. The women are more cautious, though inclined to extravagance, and incline toward music and literature, writing good poetry. These people should avoid worry and

LATEST IN STYLES.

The empire gown is coming back with a rush.

More buttons appear, but they are generally small.

Plain colored silks are much used for simple tailored blouses.

Hair line striped fabrics will be popular for tailored suits this fall.

Large muffs are predicted. Soutache is not much seen in fall fashions.

White crepe collar and cuff sets are being much used for deepest mourning.

Pipings and handbags of black will be used much this fall on colored gowns.

A twist of rose pink tulle, wound through the coiffure, is pretty for younger women.

Trimnings of beaded nets are galore—beaded insertions, edgings, motifs, large and small.

Sailors and turbans of felt, trimmed with deftly draped scarfs, will be worn this autumn.

Crepe in the Paisley patterns is one of the most fascinating of the materials for evening gowns.

LARGEST HOSPITAL.

Misericordia Hospital in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is the largest and finest on the American continent and perhaps the oldest. In it are 1,200 beds for the sick. Catholic Sisters are in charge of it.

CONVINCED.

"I never believed in advertising until now," declared the sad-faced man.

"And what has convinced you?" I asked, being a newspaper man and therefore interested in the matter of advertising.

"I saw what a rushing business the Sheriff did selling my stock of goods after advertising it only four times."

COTTAGE PUDDING.

Cream one cup of sugar with butter the size of a walnut. Add two well beaten eggs, one-half cupful milk, and one-half cupful flour with which two teaspoonfuls of baking powder have been sifted. Bake twenty minutes and serve at once with mashed, sweetened raspberries.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Potatoes show a fair crop in many districts, but not so good as last year.

The present mail car between Limerick and Downpatrick is to be replaced by a motor car.

The Mayor of Limerick has been notified that the next Celtic Congress will be held in that city.

Much regret is felt in New Ross by the transfer of the Rev. P. Doyle to the Augustinian college at Rathfarnham.

Andrew Carnegie has undertaken to defray half the cost of a new organ for the Dominican church in Limerick.

Martin Kissane, charged with shooting his sister at Toonagh, near Ennis, has been committed to an asylum as a dangerous lunatic.

At a recent meeting of the Navan District Council a resolution protesting against the introduction of soldiers into the Irish telegraph offices was passed.

Fire did considerable damage to the grocery and provision establishment of Robert Sawyer at Auchnacloy, County Tyrone, but the loss was covered by insurance.

The Mayo County Council has passed a resolution calling the attention of the Government to the irreparable ruin and devastation caused by the recent floods and storms.

Nancy Kelly, of Draperstown, County Kerry, has just passed away at the age of 104. Close to where she resided lives an old man named Kelly, 106 years old and still hale and hearty.

Notice has been given that eggs will be bought only by weight in the markets of Cavan, Monaghan and Fermanagh. Persons bringing stale eggs to market are to be handed over to the police.

News of the retirement of Head Constable Myles was received by the people of Dundalk with great regret. He retires on pension and with the good wishes both of the men under him and the general public.

Mrs. Briens, aged sixty years, living near the town of Kells, was found burned to death in her own house. She lived alone, and an epileptic fit is supposed to be the cause of her falling into the fire.

The death of Michael Daly at Kilmahamwood has occasioned deep and widespread regret in North Meath. He was a member of the Kells Rural Council and one of the most popular and highly respected gentlemen in the county.

The profession and reception of Miss Annie Finigan, in religion Sister Mary Patrick, and four other young ladies took place in the Bridgeline Convent at Tullow. Sister Mary is the oldest daughter of Patrick Finigan, of Carrickmacross.

Among the clergy at the consecration of the Most Rev. Dr. Finigan, Bishop of Kilmore, which took place with impressive ceremonial in the Cathedral at Cavan, were five American priests—Rev. F. J. McGivney, of Connecticut; Rev. James Fitzsimmons, of New York; Very Rev. B. Gaffney, of Virginia; Rev. P. J. Byrne, of St. Louis, and Rev. Hugh Smith, of Medford, Mass.

The death of Patrick McKenna at Derrylooney caused deep and widespread regret and was a shock to his relatives and friends. Notwithstanding his eighty-seven years he was a robust man and had been about his usual business up to a fortnight before his death. The deceased gentleman took a prominent part in the politics of the county and was an uncompromising Nationalist.

He was a delegate from his native parish to meet O'Connell in the early forties at the monster meeting held in Carrickmacross. He was also very prominent in all the latter-day movements—in fact any cause that made for the betterment of his country had his unstinted and whole-hearted support.

PORTLAND VS. GLENWOOD.

The Portland baseball club and its old rivals, the Glenwoods, meet tomorrow afternoon at Portland Park, and the local boys will be given a severe trial of their prowess, as Manager Vance, of the Glenwood team, has gathered in a bunch of professionals who have been playing away all summer and are anxious to show the boys at home how they have improved. The three-cornered championship between Portland, Glenwood and Butchertown is not yet decided, but Butchertown is in the lead at present. Capt. Harry Lally, of Portland, hopes to win tomorrow from Glenwood and meet Butchertown the following Sunday.

GIRL'S HOPE CHEST.

Every German girl has a hope chest. This is much different from the dowry chest which the American girl, on becoming engaged, begins to fill in advance of her wedding day. The German maiden begins to stock her hope chest even before she meets the man to whom she is to be married. She begins to save for her wedding day long before she is engaged. She is imbued with a sense of thrift and also with an ambition to have a larger dowry than her mother had. Often the German girl begins to collect things when she enters her teens. Silently she saves her money to use in buying articles for her chest.

FRANCHISE TALKS—

The Proposed Gas Rates.

The new franchise ordinances provide for a MAXIMUM rate for illuminating gas of $1.00, gross, less a discount of five per cent. for payment within five business days, or 95 CENTS net.

The present franchise of the Louisville Gas Company permits a maximum rate of $1.35 gross, and $1.30 net, but the company is actually charging $1.20 gross, and $1.00 net.

Thus the new franchise will not only LOWER THE FRANCHISE RATES 35 CENTS per 1,000 cubic feet, but it will also EFFECT AN IMMEDIATE REDUCTION OF 20 CENTS GROSS, AND 5 CENTS NET, FROM THE EXISTING RATES.

The same is true of fuel gas.

The fuel gas rate fixed by the new franchise as the MAXIMUM price is 70 cents gross, and 66½ cents net.

The Louisville Gas Company is permitted by its present charter to charge as much for fuel gas as for the illuminating kind—$1.35 gross, and $1.30 net. It ACTUALLY charges 80 cents gross, and 75 cents net, for fuel gas.

The Kentucky Heating Company is permitted by its franchise to CHARGE WHATEVER PRICE IT SEES FIT FOR ITS PRODUCT. It actually charges all the way from 44 CENTS for the first ONE HUNDRED FEET to 72 CENTS per thousand, with a discount of 10 per cent. for prompt payment.

Therefore the FUEL rates fixed by the proposed franchise, like the ILLUMINATING rates, not only RESTRICT the prices that MAY be legally charged, but also ASSURE AN IMMEDIATE SAVING TO THE CONSUMERS OF BOTH EXISTING GAS COMPANIES.

Furthermore the rates so fixed, according to the terms of the ordinances, SHALL BE LOWERED WHEN THE COST OF MANUFACTURE IS REDUCED. This provision will be explained in a later Talk.

The granting of the pending franchises, by reason of their effecting economies in management through the consolidation of the companies, will also enable the enlarged concern to extend its lines and mains to those sections of the city which at present are without gas and electric service.

FRIENDS

Throng Church to Witness
the Nolan-McElliott Wedding.

McElliott. Rev. Father Patrick Walsh united the popular couple and James O'Connor and William Hanlon acted as ushers. After the ceremony and reception at the house Mr. and Mrs. McElliott left for an extended bridal tour through the East, going to the undertakers' convention at Detroit from here, and thence to New York, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Washington and other principal points of interest. The best wishes of a legion of friends follow them into their wedded life.

Tomorrow the Louisville Racing Association will inaugurate the most notable fall meeting ever held in this section of the United States, which will continue until October 22. Historic Churchill Downs has now quartered there the fleetest horses of the entire country, and the six races for each day will present good fields to select from. Today's feature will be the St. Leger handicap for three-year-olds, in which are entered the stars of the American turf. Tuesday's feature will be the Autumn stakes for two-year-olds, for which there will be a great struggle. The South Louisville handicap, for all ages, is scheduled for Thursday, and the Frank Fehr handicap, also for all ages and one of the most coveted prizes of the meeting, will be decided Saturday. The officers of the meeting will be Charles F. Grainger, Matt J. Winn, Lyman Davis and H. C. Applegate, with Charles F. Price presiding in the judges' stand and Will Shelley as associate. Clean and honest sport will be assured and the attendance should be the largest ever recorded.

MERITS APPROVAL.

Notwithstanding the anniversary celebration the preceding day there was a large attendance Monday night at the meeting of Mackin Council, presided over by Dr. J. A. Casper, who displayed parliamentary ability of the highest order. A movement that merits approval and looks to the erection of a monument to the late Father Mackin was discussed at some length, and was finally referred to a committee composed of Charles Ralby, Robert T. Burke and Thomas Bachmann, who will report in the near future. It was announced that the memorial window for deceased members would be here and placed in the new St. Cecilia's church at the appointed time. The other business was only of routine nature.
